

Cheers to World Ag Expo's volunteers, organizers, guests

Tulare Advance-Register: There are many reasons to cheer Tulare people and businesses. We give Tulare Cheers to the following:

Cheers to all the volunteers and organizers who made the 42nd World Ag Expo another success.

Cheers to all the World Ag Expo's out-of-town guests for visiting Tulare County and helping to strengthen our local economy.

Cheers to Tulare City Schools Superintendent John Beck, who announced he was retiring after this school year, ending his 34-year career with the district.

Cheers to Luis Castellanoz, the assistant superintendent and Tulare native who was chosen to replace Beck.

Cheers to the Tulare County residents who put pressure on the Tulare County Board of Supervisors to rescind a quiet raise they slipped themselves late last year. We hope this type of fiasco will never happen again.

Cheers to the Tulare Senior Center for offering Tulare lovebirds a chance to renew their vows today.

Cheers to the memory of Sgt. Greg Hernandez, a 24-year veteran of the Tulare County Sheriff's Department who will be laid to rest today after passing away from injuries suffered in a Jan. 29 on-duty auto crash.

Cheers to Wayside Church of the Nazarene and all the volunteers who made possible a giveaway of useful goods last weekend.

Cheers to Lt. Gov. John Garamendi for coming to Tulare this week to discuss the need for a medical school in the Valley.
